TO

WILL W. MACALPINE and CHARLES A. CAMPBELL

WILL W. MACALPINE was born in the southernmost end of the Canadas, a town in Elgin county, Ontario — Rodney, situated five miles northwest of Lake Erie. He was educated in the public and high schools of that province, graduating from the Ottawa Normal School.

He started in the Ontario ungraded country schools, and later taught at Elliot Business College, Toronto, one of Canada's largest schools.

Giving up his position at Elliot, Mr. Macalpine came to the United States and studied at New York University, Northeastern University, and Zaner's School in Columbus, Ohio.

He came to Springfield in 1909, and began teaching in Commerce when it was only a department in Technical High. He teaches accounting and bookkeeping.

CHARLES A. CAMPBELL was born in Rodney, within ten miles of Mr. Macalpine. He also attended the public and high schools of Ontario, but later graduated from St. Thomas in Rodney.

Mr. Campbell began his teaching career in the public schools of London, Ontario, where he instructed in commercial subjects. He later attended a business school in Stratford, and after finishing his course there, he went to Toronto, where he joined Mr. Macalpine, teaching in the Elliot Business College.

He came to Springfield one year prior to Mr. Macalpine, and began teaching at Commerce. He is at present the head of the stenographic department.

I am the Everlasting Phantom. I am that indefinable presence which has been and always will be lurking within the walls of Commerce. I have seen classes come and go. I have seen them enter as timid freshman and leave as serious-minded seniors willing to share the burdens of life.

I recall the time when I saw this class of January, 1933, entering as mere freshman, shy, wondering, under the benevolent guidance of Mr. Carlos B. Ellis, formerly beloved principal of Commerce, who gave them a warm welcome into the school.

Faculty advisers were selected to direct this class through the many activities to come.

They were as follows:

Miss Madeline Hunt — Miss Eleanor Walker

Miss Winona Libby

Also an election for class officers was held, which brought the following results:

Emanuel Tesoro.....President

Edward Cummings.....Vice-President — Kenneth Van Wart.....Treasurer
Helen Volta.....Secretary — Julia Bryson.....Auditor

The class soon became accustomed to the routine of the school, and thus their first semester passed rapidly. Sadly came the end of Mr. Ellis's long term of leadership as principal of Commerce, and they awaited with questioning attitudes the arrival of the new principal, a Mr. Jerome Burtt, who was coming to take his place. He proved to be a man well equipped with the qualities necessary for the position which he now holds. Their first social affair, in the form of a tea-dance held in the gayly decorated Gym., gave the students of the class a better opportunity to become acquainted with each other. In this way the first of the three years at Commerce ended, and they looked forward with eager anticipation to their second term.

At last it arrived and they were juniors, no longer the timid freshmen. They were ready to take up the duties of their junior year, and well did they perform their tasks.

The new officers elected were

Emanuel Tesoro.....President

Robert Toomey.....Vice-President — Kenneth Van Wart.....Treasurer
Mae Rosso.....Secretary — Julia Bryson.....Auditor

Next came the XIB class social. Yes, a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all, dancing to the strains of a popular orchestra. Time sped by; classes continued as ever, but before they knew it, plans were being made and committees were being chosen for the XIA dance. This was appropriately called a Blue Moon Social, with the Gym. most beautifully decorated in blue and silver, soft midnight blue streamers mingling with scintillating silver, transforming the bare room into an enchanting fairyland. Then came an important event, the Christmas Assembly. With the help of the present XIIB class, a fine program was carried out, with a group of elderly ladies and gentlemen from the Homes of the Aged as guests. This event marked the close of the XIA semester. Could it be that the class had been two years in Commerce? Realizing that there would be only a very short time to spend under its sheltering roof, they entered into the last of those three years with great enthusiasm.

Under the leadership of these new officers

EDWIN HELLYAR.....President

MELVIN KOPELMAN.....Vice-President KENNETH VAN WART.....Treasurer

MAE ROSSO.....Secretary JEANETTE BERMAN.....Member-at-Large

their first important undertaking was the Freshman Reception which gave them opportunity to welcome the incoming freshman class into the school. This, like their previous activities, proved to be an eminent success. In the early spring, the strains of the Silvery Moon Orchestra provided music for the XIIB Hop. Ah, yes! Time flew by on swift wings, faster than ever before. Among many of the students, I discerned expressions of what I deemed to be regret that the end of three happy years was so close at hand.

At last their ambitions were realized. I have witnessed another class reach the top rung of the ladder they have been so valiantly climbing. They were seniors. Regretful yet happy, they attained the goal they had been striving for. Seniors! What a wealth of meaning lies behind that magic word! Seniors! What exciting events it embodies! Arm-bands proudly displayed! Caps and gowns on parade! Prom! Banquet! Graduation! Seniors — saddened because now only memories remain, and yet ready to face the problems of life.

Class Song

TUNE: Lullaby of the Leaves

We're saying goodbye to you, Commerce dear,
We studied hard through all the years,
But now we must go,
Dear old Commerce High.

You taught us all the things we know,
That in this world we'll have a show,
But now we must go,
Dear old Commerce High.

Strangers all, three years ago,
United now before we go,
—All through you—
Assembled here in this great hall,
All for one, and one for all,
Goodbye! Goodbye to you,
Dear old Commerce High.

We hereby pledge, oh High School great,
Whatever comes to be our fate,
To always be true, always be true to you.

Words by MELVIN KOPELMAN

Remember?

Remember, Classmates? Remember some of the things that we've laughed at together? And that we'll never forget?

Our first social.....in the afternoon. The excitement, new dresses, whisperings, plans, and efforts at dancing. And later, the cider and doughnuts at the XIA dance. The doughnuts—two great huge cylinders that could be bounced—and the cider—such teeny-weeny little cups to wash down the enormous doughnuts. Andy Donnellan proudly displaying the little girl friend from the school down the hill.

The inexperienced fellows trying so hard to dance.....What agony they must have suffered, dragging themselves and a partner around.....Remember that squeaky, blarey, tinny cornet in the orchestra?

And way back.....oh, 'way, 'way, 'way back.....(it's hard to remember so far) when we were .....FRESHIES!!!!!

The Frashmun Resepshun! What a time we had. We brought Momma and Poppa and Lizzie and Jane and introduced them to all the merry pedagogues. All the smiling and nodding and acknowledging of introductions and "Oh yes, your daughter is a ve-ry clever student. We have great hopes for her;" or "Of course he is doing his best and we always make allowances for that;" "He should make a good football player, don't you think?" and we'd have to stand there and grin and bear it.

And our teachers.....Mr. Smith, forever kicking the waste basket and humbly saying to it, "Oh, excuse me!".....and then stumbling on the light plug. Miss Walker, trying to be serious, finding it hard, but sometimes succeeding. The booming, rumbling, steadily crescendo voice of "Bob" Jackson, (the Belchertown Jackson, you know).

Mr. Chatto. His Journalism jokes.....his friendly willingness and ability to sympathize. The sphinx-like countenance of Miss Sinsabaugh, inscrutable to conceal her sense of humor. Miss Tourtellotte, forever saying, "Well, now, I guess we'll have to take that with a grain of salt." And Miss Rankin, stalking and cavorting around the room ....."Is this a dagger which I see before me, the handle toward my hand?"

How could we forget?

The Christmas Assembly was one of our biggest successes. Johnny Arakelian, shivering and shaking on the stage.....the ghosts, and the tomb-stone that wouldn't stand up until it was leaned against a chair.....Ralph Peat as Tiny Tim, sitting on his "father's" arm.

Remember the time that Good Friday came on the same date as a Jewish Holiday? There was hardly anyone in school! What a grand time the rest of us had that day.....

And the time we had "Perfect Tardiness Record" as some crazy news reporter mistakenly put it. The dance held at noon.....the rough gym. floor.....the speed-mad orchestra.....

Rallies.....Football games.....Cold, nipping air.....Red noses.....Excitement.....Cheers ....A hurt player.....Crowded trolley cars.....Fun.....

Crowded stands at the basketball games.....Climbing over other people, getting torn stockings, skinned shins, barked ankles.....It may have been hard on the players but it was just as hard on us because it ruined our clothes as well. Remember the time the Turners Falls boy did a nose-dive into Judy Bryson's lap? Remember the boys in their gym. suits? The "Ohs" and "Ahs" about some of them and the "Ho's" and "Ha's" about more of them?

And our class meetings.....Whisperings, resolutions, questions, plans, excitement, and finally Ed Hellyar saying, "Will someone make a motion that the meeting be adjourned?".....and the perfect silence that always greeted this request. Silence that descended and rolled over and enveloped the whole assembly hall until someone nervously coughed and giggled.....And then Miss Hunt or somebody would stand up pompously and say, "I make a motion that this meeting be adjourned," and the hall would break out into noise as if a cap had been taken off and the steam was rushing out, which it was—hot air, mostly.

Those Journalism Conventions were some of the funniest and wildest times we had during our whole three years. The entertainments given in the smaller country schools.....the eternal tuna fish salads.....the rows in the Round Table Conferences.....the editors of the various schools setting up their papers as the model one. Remember the time the fellow was supposed to be telling how he could improve his paper and started off by saying, "Well, of course, we think our paper is just about as perfect as it can be. There may be room for improvement, but we can't find it....?", and the fellow who said, in such an earnest innocent way, "We printed our paper on a mimeograph but you couldn't read it. It didn't show!" How we piled ourselves into the two or three cars that were provided for us. When we reached the conventions it took us all evening to get unwound, and then it was time to go home again. But we loved it.....We loved to get squashed in the cars and giggle ourselves silly over the amateur (and how it was amateur) entertainments and get sick on the over-worked salads.

But the crowning glories of our youthful existence were the Banquet, Class Day, The Prom, and Graduation.

Class Day.....All that it meant to us.....our gowns and caps dazzling the lower classmen.....our program.....Pictures.....dancing.....a few tears, and in the excitement our gowns forgotten.....dragging on the floor.....What did we care? It was our day.....all ours. Nobody can take that memory away from us. Happiness, sadness, joy, laughter, fun, tears, all intermingled.....

The Prom. Bright lights, soft music, swirling skirts, glistening colors.....A perfect evening with the boy friend or the girl. That favorite tune flooding dreamily over the hall. And the place we went afterward. What a night!

"Pass the olives, please." "Gee, isn't this fun?" "Shush. They're going to read the prophecy and three year honors." Will you ever forget that banquet?

And finally.....Graduation. The solemn slow music. The marching.....rows of white and dark figures.....solemn-faced boys and girls about to step over the threshold of life. The mayor bending toward us.....the diploma in our hand, small and round and firm and meaning so much to us.....The general scramble downstairs after it was all over.....

Farewell to Youth

At last.....Seniors.
We stand on the topmost pinnacle
Of twelve long years.
Or were they long?
They seem now to have flown,
To have rushed away beneath us,
Eluding our grasp.
Leaving us breathless, wondering.....
And a little bewildered.....
Always we have looked at life
Over someone else's shoulder.
We have grown.....expanded.....
Basked in the sun of learning.
We have had our little bitter lessons,
Our happy days.....
Always there have been emotions crowding our feelings
Because we were youth.....
Youth reaching for.....What?
Life?
And what is life?
More bitter lessons.
More emotions.
Tears, regret, sorrow, but also
Joy.
Effervescent happiness.....
Wonderful dreams to be fulfilled.....
All this lies ahead of us,
And with it we can mingle
Our memories.....
Memories of the days we are about to leave behind....

We stand at the open door of life.
And now.....
We cross the threshold.....

ROBRITA HAMILTON.

In Memoriam

RICHARD STEPHEN O'BRIEN

It all happened at a meeting at Geneva in 1952, where we, Lula Richardson, a lecturer on nutrition Marion Dawson, a rancher in Texas, and Grace Lapine, a librarian in the Library of Congress, were attending a meeting of the League of Nations. Each of us was looking out for our own private interests at the conference. Not having met for a long while, we decided we would take a trip around the world in an antiquated clipper aeroplane that Charles Lindbergh had invented in 1932.

We first went to England. While we were crossing the English Channel, we were assured by the pilot that this was the last time we would see a boat cross the English Channel, as a bridge was just being constructed by the great engineer, Edwin Hellyar. While in England we met Mrs. Ludwig Vollmar, the former Robrita Hamilton, who invited us to dine. After leaving England we crossed the border into Scotland, where we found Helen Urquhart, who is leading a very quiet life.

We then went back to France, where we found Irene Marinake, who brought us to a trial in a court in which she was interpreter. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomczak, Mrs. Tomczak being the former Florence Darbe, were having a dispute over who should posssess the family cat. After leaving the courthouse, we went to a little shop where Milly McRitchie is gradually becoming an old maid. In one of the large fashion shops are Irene Terho and Winifred Sears, who are the best models on the continent. Lillian Hanna has also made a name for herself as a stylist in Paris.

In Germany we met Lillian Krasner, who is living there. Potoula Tougias is the owner of a pet farm in Germany. We invited Lillian and Potoula to our hotel, where we listened to a radio broadcast. One of the star performers was Edward Block, who takes the part of the villain in many of the plays. The air-waves are certainly hot at times.

At Moscow we met Agnes Rister, who told us that she was running a very successful dancing school. Her assistants in teaching were Evelyn Connors, Marguerite Terault, and Verna Welchans.

From Russia we went to Africa, where Elton Young, a well-known surveyor of the American Geographical Society, was making a survey.

In the United States our first stop was at San Francisco, where Mary Moore is the belle of the social circle. Robert Toomey has settled down to married life. It is not a happy one, however, because of his wife's hen-pecking. At Los Angeles, Jeanette Berman is the head of Berman & Company. It was here that our pilot become suddenly ill, and Norma Gardner, an aviatrix, volunteered her services as our pilot. Before starting out from Los Angeles, however, we visited the Gloth Twins, who are running a trans-continental trucking business. They sent our purchases in one of their large trucks to our homes.

From Los Angeles we went to Hollywood, where Dorothy Niemiec, Andrew Donnellan, and John Driscoll are making one of the greatest motion pictures in the United States. Paul Krause has obtained great fame as a camera man in Hollywood. We also found Henry Potemski living there.

Reno was the next place of interest where there was great excitement. Paul Bloom, a successful lawyer, and Eunice VanDerwerken, who was inspired to be a lawyer when she guessed the right answers before the person reciting did in the law class at Commerce, were in a battle of wits and tongues for their respective clients, Elvie Bjorklund and Mitchell Ankiewicz, famous baseball player. This was brought about when Elvie, who was attending a game in which Mitchell was playing, was hit by a ball that he had batted.

Paul has some other clients who live in a small town outside of Reno. They are John Long, who is being sued by Theresa Greco, whom he ran over, and Fede Sardi, who is trying to settle the estate of one of her rich aunts.

From Reno we went to a little town in Wisconsin where we stayed at Bronislaus Ledygowski's large ranch. At Minneapolis we were passing by a theatre when we noticed a large bulletin stating the fact that the Cawen Vaudeville Troupe was playing there. It seemed interesting, so we went in and found that Edward Cummings, Charlotte Emirzian, William Dale, Donald Devine, and Anna Wiseman made up the troupe. During the intermission, Rudy Vallee's orchestra played. Among the musicians were Charles Manning, drummer; Richard Kuralt, cornet player; and Robert Brown, who plays a horn. We then went to a little town in Michigan where we found Robert Susinetti living. He is trying to bring up his family in the quaint old ways of 1932.

At Chicago we visited many of our old friends. Among the most famous of these was Emanuel Tesoro, a well-known economist, who told of his experience while giving several speeches in the now enlarged High School of Commerce in Springfield. Ruth Hickman has also acquired fame in Chicago as Editor-in-Chief of the Chicago Tribune. Sophie Demetropoulos was also there, although she still lives in Springfield. She had entered the International Tennis Tournament which is being held there. All experts think she will win.

Other classmates are in Chicago, too. Rose Mastroianni and Dorothy Vinton have teamed and are redecorating all great notables' homes. We should like to have our homes redecorated, but their prices are much too high. The Women's All-American Basketball Team played there. One of its members was Stella Stroz. Florence Mayko has a dancing studio in Chicago. Francis O'Connor owns one of the largest packing houses in the United States.

In Washington we found that Kenneth Van Wart, as Secretary of the Treasury, was trying to save the country's money just as he did when treasurer of our class. He has for his secretary, Mary Hally. Julia Bryson has been elected as Representative to Congress from Massachusetts. Helen Volta is her secretary-companion.

Of all the places we visited, New York City was the most interesting. Here we found Gertrude Phanuef and Ethel Berg singing and Alma Barsam playing the violin in the Metropolitan Opera House. It was also in New York that we met John Hurley, who told us that he owned an accounting firm. His accountants are Mae Rosso, Athanasia Andrews, Beatrice Cross, Catherine Delapa, Catherine McGrath, Ralph Peat, and Guido Andrade. Among his stenographers and secretaries are Dorcas Baker, Mary Ashe, Carmen Braica, Florence Hickey, Leona Lawler, and Edna Okrongley. Sarah Ratner, also in New York, has bought a night club. Among her helpers are Marion Robinson and Tillie Taub.

While we were watching Dorothy Johnson, who is a model in an exclusive dress shop where Lillian Kemple is the head dressmaker, we met Flora Jahn, who has just been crowned the Champion Shorthand Writer of the United States. She told us that Evelyn Inglis has just written a book called How to Get to a Place the Last Minute and Not be Late. She gained this knowledge while going to Commerce. Elizabeth Frasca was also a model in this shop.

We also met John Arakelian, who has become the manager of the New York Yankees. With him was Ruth Brownell, who has become famous as a reader of poems. She first gained recognition when she read Ruth Fieldman's poem entitled The Long Lost Friend.

John Conway is a boys' gym. teacher in one of New York's largest boys' colleges. Irving Cowles, who lives in New York, has many pieces of art in the now nationally known art museum in Springfield.

Our next place to visit was our Old Home Town, Springfield. Of course the first place we visited was Commerce. We found that it has grown thrice its size. Here we found several of our classmates. Cecilia Fontaine has succeeded Miss Fisher as gym. teacher. Her assistant is Margaret Hack. Jennie Wojtowicz has succeeded Miss Rankin as one of the snappiest and smartest English teachers.

We then went to the Springfield Auditorium where Melvin Kopelman, a well-known singer who has just returned from Europe, was performing. On the same program with Melvin, we found Edith Ruddeforth, who is another one of our members who has acquired fame as a singer. On going out of the Auditorium, we met Maurice Robinson, a reporter for a local paper. True to his tradition, he told us most of the following news: Althea Spitzl, Muriel Manley, Francesca Misisco, and Leona Creighton are nurses at Springfield Hospital. Monica Johnson and Elizabeth Jardine have become Dr. Hatt's most skillful nurses. Maurice also said that an entire children's library has been opened on St. James Avenue with Mildred Hayden at its head. He told us that his worst enemy was Ruth Pomroy, who has appointed herself critic for one of the local papers. Allyn Burr and Charles Kerr have also gone in for journalism.

With a smile, Maurice told us that Beatrice Randall was still trying to catch a man, and Dorothy Miller was still flirting with all the fellows she could find. Among the saleswomen in various local stores are Vivian Choinard, Julia Prosansky, Edna Rickman, Eleanor Kennedy, and Eva Lukmin. Margery Burgess, Mary Sholtz, who is supposed to be a stenographer—we wonder—, and Stuart Dorman have gone in for office work. Joseph Laporte, the sheik of Commerce, is still playing around with girls. Ruth Cannon has retired to private life to bring up a family. Ruth Colliston is engaged in the same occupation.

Maurice then told us of some who are really doing more for the country than any of the rest of the class; they are Kathleen Daley, who is mothering a group of orphans; Marion Marshall, leader of the Girl Reserves; and her assistant, Ida Moss.

Bernice McDonald has succeeded her father in the florist business. Frances McInerney has become Springfield's Champion Hiker. Ida Mackler and Mary Osadchuck are married and spend their time taking care of their sons and daughters. Earl Sloboda is a great usher in one of the largest churches in Springfield. Eva Luppi is still going from one place to another trying to find some excitement. John Carlin is still as bashful as he was at Commerce. Merrill Carr is an assistant partner in his father's radio store. Isaac Cohen has gone into the shoe business. Norman Berard is the manager of one of the local stores. Jennie Serbent has become the head of a large bugle corporation. Myrtle Smith is a dietitian at Wesson Hospital. John Green is director of a boys' camp in the Wilbraham Mountains. Our athletes have not forsaken us. Charles Demchuck is director of athletics at Springfield College. Constantine Ustach is a football coach at Holy Cross. That was about all the news we could obtain from Maurice.

We then went to Boston, the last city in our trip. Here we visited Aldine Daigle, who has married a sailor and is now left on shore while he sails the seven seas. She has for her cook, Eva Cucchi.

We were very sorry we had lost track of the remaining members of the class. They seemed to have disappeared off the earth. We said goodbye with many a tear and each went to her own home, hoping to see the rest as often as possible.

Last Will and Testament

Know all men by these presents, that we, the class of January, 1933, in the County of Hampden and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of good memory and sound mind and understanding, do hereby declare the following as our last will and testament, revoking all former wills and testamentary instruments by us at any time heretofore made:

1. To Mr. Ellis, our former principal, and Mr. Burtt, our present principal, who have guided us through our three years at Commerce, we bequeath our most sincere gratitude and appreciation.

2. To Miss Madeline Hunt, Miss Eleanor M. Walker, and Miss Winona Libby we bequeath our heartfelt gratitude for their helping hand while at Commerce.

3. To our faculty, who have been our friends and advisers in all troubles, personal and scholastic, we bequeath our respect and appreciation.

4. Edwin Hellyar, our retiring president, leaves this well-worn gavel to the present XIIB president, Graham Rogers.

5. Melvin Kopelman leaves to Clyde Agan his mellow crooning voice.

6. Jeanette Berman leaves her ability to make teachers laugh to anyone capable of annexing it.

7. Edward Cummings leaves this elegant copy of the Saturday Evening Post to Mr. Parmenter, so that he may become better acquainted with this type of magazine.

8. Mr. Smith's Economics 2 classes leave him this terrible weapon to use accordingly. [Hatchet]

9. Paul Bloom leaves his ability to draw a teacher into a prolonged argument over trivial matters.

10. Ralph Peat, well known for his extreme height, leaves some of his excess length to Ludwig Vollmar.

11. To anyone who frequents the water, Elvie Bjorklund leaves her ability as a dipper-duck.

12. Kenneth Van Wart leaves this small cross-word puzzle to Mr. Jackson, so that Mr. Jackson may increase his vocabulary during study periods.

13. Mae Rosso, our retiring class secretary, leaves her ability to report on all that has, or should have, taken place in class meetings.

14. To Mr. Perkins we leave this lamb chop and book on the Eighteen Day Diet, so that he may retain his boyhood figure.

15. We leave to Miss Sinsabaugh a copy of Film Fun, that her future library classes will not be bored in study.

16. A fine pitch-pipe is left Mr. Watkins by retiring members of his Boys' Glee Club.

17. "Turk" Arakelian leaves his presidency of the B. A. A. to "Chief" Myers. "Chief" may pin it on any one he wants.

18. Joseph Joseph is left all the knowledge which "Bob" Susinetti has acquired in bookkeeping.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals at our residence in the High School of Commerce, City of Springfield, this eighteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-Two.

In Days of No' Lang Syne

"A story ye ask for; well now, let me see.
Ah, yes, I have one; 'tis a history
Of youth and play and learnin' and woe,
So hark'e awhile if my tale'e would know.

"'Twas nineteen thirty, in September.
Our crew set sail, I well remember,
Upon a voyage of work and glee;
Our boat we named Class of Thirty-Three.

"Waves of loneliness and doubt
Shook our boat — would have turned her out,
Save for the work of each lad and lass
Who strove to keep the boat en masse.

"Soon as our voyage we'd begun,
We freshmen were all asked to come
With parents who should meet our teachers
And learn about our school's good features.

"This done, our boat sailed day and night;
No shadow of storm appeared in sight.
The sea was smooth with little exception
'Till someone sighted the storm of election.

"Weeks passed and our first lap was done.
We anchored to have a little fun
At XA port on St. Patrick's Day —
'Twas a merry time, both bright and gay.

"Time fled, and storms and gales delayed,
Dark nights and foggy days waylaid,
But onward we sailed, without a stop
Except to attend the XIB hop!

"Winter appeared and Christmas time;
We anchored in a northern clime.
Our crew staged Dickens' Christmas play
To brighten up some old folks' day.

"We paused again in Junior Zone
To choose new leaders of our own;
This done, we sailed another spell
'Midst many cries, "Good luck! All's well."

"Ours was a gay good natured crew,
Willing to pause on the ocean blue,
And so, our voyage to enhance,
We staged a merry XIA dance.

" 'Twas another fall; of thirty-two.
Our vessel was safe, our crew still true.
Our longed-for goal was drawing near;
Our trip had left but one more year.

"An election-storm now blocked our way,
And kept our boat in grave delay,
Until we chose for the rest of the days
New leaders worthy of endless praise.

"Knowing our voyage was nearly done,
We stopped in our course for cheer and fun,
We spent a XIIB evening, dancing;
The time was gay and bright — entrancing.

"We're homeward bound 'midst joy and tears.
We're ending three short happy years.
Our ship draws near that phantom shore.
Of other ships that are seen no more."

—Virginia Elaine Noble

In Memoriam

VINCENT WILLIAM BAIRD

In Bonnie Days-to-Come

THE scene is laid in the hotel lobby in New York City. It is June, 1953. Mary J. Hughes and Helen Sweeney have just returned from a world trip.

As the scene opens, Helen asks Mary to get the Springfield newspaper. Mary goes to a rack nearby, and looks for the paper. She finds there a copy of the Commerce Caduceus. She hesitates. Helen speaks irritably. "Haven't you found it?" Mary lays the Caduceus down, and picks up the newspaper. Again she looks at the book, and takes it, with the paper, over to Helen. As soon as Helen sees it, she brightens, and opens it at once.

Helen — Just think, twenty years ago we were in school planning for the prom., banquet, and graduation. If anyone had told me I would be rich in a few years, I would have told him that he was crazy.

Mary — Yes, I believe that is so. Our class has certainly been successful. I saw the other day in an evening paper that Eleanor Matroni and Helen Messier, after finishing the course at Twitchell's Kindergarten School, have opened one of their own and are making a huge success of it. They have as stenographers Mildred Sandor, Jean Honiker, and Ruth Pomeroy. Josephine Panza has charge of the books, and Philomena Mazza does the typewriting.

Helen — How successful they have been! Have you heard about Olin Whipple and Ralph Martone? They are two of the best brokers on Wall Street. I went in to see them a short time ago, and Mr. Martonewas dictating a letter to his secretary, Ruth Malmstrom. She was always good in shorthand.

Mary — Well, look at Irene Pagani. She is now assistant treasurer of the United States. She saves money for our country just as she did for our class.

Helen — Thomas Flannery was hurt while playing professional football a few days ago, so I went to see him. He looked well. No wonder, he should — he had most of the nurses in the hospital caring for him. Some of them were Alice Horwitz, Anne Darbe, June Trepanier, and Hester Moylan. On the way out, I bumped into Arthur Siciliano, who is now one of the greatest surgeons in America.

Mary — Speaking of nurses, I had a toothache this afternoon and I didn't know where to go to have it fixed. I met Evelyn Carlson and she told me that Irving Winniman was a good dentist. I went to his office, and I was met by Ruth Sweeney, who is his nurse. Elsie Nozick, his secretary, was writing out some bills in his office. He certainly is a good dentist.

Helen — I was about to pass Lillian Wolper's store this morning when I looked through the window. Inside was Dominica Brzys. She was trying to convince John Fiorillo that the tie she held in her hand would look well on him. Elmer Bourdeau sells shirts and stockings. Rita Stookins is still selling handkerchiefs and sweaters. Elizabeth Paterson is a buyer now. She told me that she started from the bottom. I walked over to the jewelry counter, and there was Mazie Lovekin trying to sell a necklace and ring to Mildred Labovitz. Millie, as usual, wanted to know all of the good points.

Mary — Oh that's nothing, I saw Millie Masucci selling James McCarthy a dozen pairs of socks. These men surely are easy. Jennie Petluck buys all the cosmetics that are needed. Jennie was good at this make-up business. Helen Jurkowski was having a very good time selling John Lynch a pair of gloves. Speaking of gloves, I bought a pair for myself the other day, and while I was there, Mary Parnell came in and asked her for a pair of gloves to fit her husband. The salesgirl asked her the size of his hand. Mary looked puzzled. She brightened suddenly and said, "Oh, yes, his hand is big enough to hold mine just nicely."

Helen — That's a good one. You know they call Don Rice the man of a thousand orchestras and the king of melody. As the little German boy used to say, "Ya, it vas vonderfool. His orkesta iss chust the best I ever heard excepting none." By the way, Clyde Agan, the announcer at station C.O.M.M., has scheduled a series of talks by the famous Evelyn Mayforth. He says she is going to talk on why we are what we are when we are what we are.

Mary — Do you remember Francis Silvia? He has just accepted the position of coach for the New York Yankees. He is teaching the players how it should be done. I saw a sign made by Myrtle Paxton the other day. It told about the physical education school that was opened by George Pollack and Elisha Philipoff. I, for one, would never think of them as really working. Constance Poehler now has Miss Fisher's place as gym. instructor in Commerce, and Rita Kreiger, Anna, and Mary Burnett are her assistants. I hope they treat their pupils as well as the other gym. teachers did.

Helen — I met Ludwig Vollmar today. He is an inch taller than when he went to Commerce, and is still going up for the higher things, you know. He invited me to lunch. I know I talk a good deal, but he certainly beats me to it. I could not get a word in sideways. He said that he and Walter O'Brien are two of the greatest bankers in Chicago, and have many clerks, stenographers, and bookkeepers working for them. Some he mentioned were Eileen Thomas, Doris Nowak, Lillian Malmstrom, Ruth Lyons, Myrtle McDonald, Tillie Mariotti, Barbara McMahon, Helen Decker, Ruth Krauss, Milton Goldstein, and Charles Pappis. He told me that Graham Rogers was trying to sell him some life insurance, but he [Ludwig] referred him to his lawyers, Wallace Olsen, and Bernerd Dunn.

Mary — By the way, Helen, did you see that new shop near Archer Davidson's Veterinary, with the sign FACE LIFTED PAINLESSLY AND QUICKLY? Well, that beauty parlor is run by Ruth Nunn and Betty Thorne.

Helen — We certainly have these ex-Commerce pupils up in the air. There's Lawrence Twomey in the army corps. Louis Korobkin is an excellent engineer, too. He specializes in hot air.

Mary—I was going down the street the other day, and I saw David Hodgson, the contractor, telling Frank Spedero and Rudolph Safarik what to do. Imagine his telling them!

Helen—Oh, by the way, at the Metropolitan Opera last night, Kathleen Renison and Helen Fox sang two of the most beautiful songs. Charlie O'Malley is a reporter from the Noble-Russell Evening Star. Virginia and George were very good in journalism. Their secretaries are Helen Patingre and Gertrude Goldberg. Joseph Conti and Dorothy Hill make up the editorial staff. The other reporters are Robert Wenners, Mary E. Sullivan, Lilly Swanson, Bernice Weiss, and Ethel Weinberg.

Mary—You remember Edward Mitkoski? He's now the owner of a large accounting house. His Certified Public Accountants are Angela Audette, Priscilla Beauregard, Violet Boutin, Betty Hawes, Joseph Finn, Max Hochstein, Frank Cirillo, and Adelard Belanger. Some of his secretaries are Pearl Brody, Doris Brussell, Agnes Hunt, and Betty Burke. Vera Pflug and Ida Baker do his typewriting.

Helen—I met Vina Olson the other day. She said Raymond Meyers was in the X. Y. A. hospital with appendicitis. Anna Levine bought the hospital, and is at the head of the nurses. She gave him ether, and the doctor started to remove his appendix. He, then, laughed out loud. He can never get over that laughing spell he had in school. Dorothy Silverman, Kathryn Smith, Adela Utakis, and Lottie Novakowsky are some of the other nurses working for Anna.

Mary—Sammy Zucco and Anthony Lucia walked me down to the library the other day. Josephine Tancrati was in charge of it. She has been for years interested in good books. Rena Fournier was helping her put up many paintings on the walls. These she said were made by Lucille Derouin and Frances Leeman.

Helen—Alice Beaman's home is beautiful. She had Beatrice Belcher and Leonora Gendreau decorate it for her. Alice told me that Graham Rogers had also been to her home. He wanted to sell some of his insurance policies. He told her that the insurance company that he worked for employed Haroldean Cushman, Genevieve Zajac, Halina Zlotnitsky, Kathleen Hirst, and John Stone. You know that out of our class John was the only successful boy secretary.

Mary—Iris Runsdorf has a physical education school all of her own. Angie Maggi and Margaret Axtmann are working with her. Elizabeth Rosati is her secretary. She told me that she saw Marion Goldstein the other night, playing the violin. She has made many public appearances, and these net big profits. Her school-day rival, Leslie Kosla, has been travelling, and now has a large music academy. Ina Kennedy and Douglas Keyes teach some of his pupils. Catherine Mitchell cares for his financial affairs. Mary Murphy and Helen Devick have charge of his office. Theodore Brown is his lawyer. Evelyn Brooks is the stenographer in Max Kasofsky's stamp store. As a boy, Max was very fond of odd stamps.

Helen—Ida Kaplan is an elocution teacher now, and Hector Lefebvre was graduated from Northeastern Law School, and is now a lawyer. They were very successful.

Mary—I was talking to Izzy Cohen, Monday, and he told me that John Donovan is one of the best fighters in America. He was good [in this line of work] at the time he was going to school.

Helen—Gee, I'm tired. Let's go to bed. We certainly have talked plenty — you know we always did. I wish we could find out about our other classmates.

Mary—Well, although we don't know where they are or what they are doing, we wish them happiness and success in everything they undertake.

Dear Old Commerce

Farewell, dear old Commerce,
Dear old Commerce High,—
Oh, how we will miss you,
When at last we say goodbye!

Farewell, dear old Commerce,—
Our school life now is through.
Wherever life may take us,
We'll always think of you!

So, farewell, dear old Commerce,—
Our thanks are most sincere
To all those who have helped us,
Through our three high school years.

The Last Wull and Tustament of the Class of June, Thur-r-r-rty Thr-r-ree

Ladies and Gentlemen, Board of Education, Superintendent, Principal, Teachers, and Friends:

Upon behalf of our clients, the Class of June, 1933, of the High School of Commerce, of the City of Springfield, State of Massachusetts, we have called you together upon this solemn and serious occasion, to listen to their last will and testament, and to receive the few gifts they have to bestow in their last moments. They have tried to be just, as well as generous and impartial, and to distribute wisely unto those who will make the best use of such gifts as they have in their power to bestow. These are their decisions, as at last definitely arrived at through very deliberate consideration.

Listen, then, one and all, while the document is read, as duly drawn up and sworn to:

First: To Mr. Jerome Burtt, our principal, we give and bequeath our heartfelt appreciation and gratitude for guiding our ship on so successful a journey during these three happy years.

Second: To Miss Mildred B. Jenks, Miss Grace L. Bulkeley, and Mr. George Reed, our faculty advisers, we give and bequeath our most sincere appreciation for their helpful assistance in our undertakings.

Third: We give our gratitude to those who have helped to make our year book a success: Miss Ruth Marsden, Miss Harriet Johnson, and Mr. G. Donald Melville.

Fourth: Graham Rogers, President of the June Class of 1933, leaves to Paul Noffke, Jr., President of the January Class of 1934, this gavel, that he may conduct in an orderly way the trying affairs of his class.

Fifth: To Miss Harris we will this eighteen-day pamphlet, so that she may retain her girlish figure.

Sixth: Owing to the existing depression and not being Scotch, we bequeath to Mr. Chatto this large bottle of milk for the Commerce Kitty.

Seventh: Albert Melaney leaves his attractive looks to Bennie Bernert or to any other "heart breaker."

Eighth: We leave this bottle of hair tonic to Mr. Macalpine, so that he may maintain his fluffy white hair, which makes him look so distinguished.

Ninth: Wilfred DeGrandpre gives this ham sandwich to Gustave Cohen.

Tenth: Virginia Noble leaves her journalistic ability to Bennie Fine or to anyone else who dares to claim it.

Eleventh: To Mr. Augustus H. Smith we will this cow-bell, that he may receive the attention of his future Economics classes more promptly.

Twelfth: George Russell and Edson Freeman leave Mr. Melville these passes which he forgot to ask for.

Thirteenth: We leave to our custodian, Mr. Jackson, this bottle of ink, so that he may have the school's ink wells filled with a better writing fluid.

Fourteenth: Hector Lefebvre and Winston Larson will this megaphone to future XIIA presidents, so that they can be heard in class meetings.

Fifteenth: Julian Ferrero and Sylvia Pomerantz support Mr. Parmenter's "Buy Springfield" campaign, by leaving him this Springfield-made checker game.

Sixteenth: To the lunchroom management, we leave this can of peas and two tablespoons of flour to thicken the water which they serve as soup.

Seventeenth: Franklyn Ferguson gives to Mr. Walker this Accounting Test for him to grade his own proficiency and intelligence.

Eighteenth: To any second floor teacher we will and bequeath this telescope, so that he may be a witness to what goes on in the operating room of the Wesson Memorial Hospital.

Nineteenth: To Miss Rankin we leave this bottle of blue ink to help her forget the red fluid which she uses so frequently.

Twentieth: To the Freshman Class we bequeath our glorious record of achievements as a goal for them to attain.

Twenty-first: Wallace Olsen gives Mr. Melville the new nickname of "Don", so that the Freshmen will not mistake our dear pedagogue for a real doctor.

Twenty-second: Rocco Falcone bequeathes this cap-gun to Mr. Pease, so that he may prove himself a real cowboy.

Twenty-third: Thomas Barrett wills to Mr. Oswald this miniature coffin, that he may have a new way of disposing of his dead jokes.

Twenty-fourth: We give and bequeath to our beloved faculty all the amazing knowledge and startling information that we have furnished them from time to time in our various examination papers. They are hereby authorized to give out such of this information to the world as they may feel the world is ready to receive.

Twenty-fifth: We, pioneers in lunching occasionally with Mr. Burtt in order to promote better acquaintance, leave this pleasant custom to the lower classmen to be used when they become seniors.

All the rest and residue of our property, whatsoever and wheresoever, of what nature, kind, and quality soever it may be, and not herein before disposed of, we give and bequeath to our beloved Principal, for his use and benefit absolutely, and to be disposed of for the good of the coming classes as he may see fit.

And we do hereby constitute and appoint the said Principal sole executor of this our last will and testament.

In witness whereof, We, the Class of June, 1933, the testators, have to this our will, written on one sheet of parchment, set our hands and seal this twenty-first day of April, Anno Domini, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-Three.

THE Boys' Patrol is an organization of boys whose function it is to see that the rules and traditions of the school are observed.

Since the number of pupils has increased very rapidly during the last few years, an increasing amount of supervision has become necessary. In view of the fact that the increase in the number of teachers has not kept proportionate pace with the increasing number of pupils, some other means of supervision had to be devised. Thus the Boys' Patrol was formed.

Members of the Patrol are stationed at strategic points in and about the building and wear badges indicative of their position. Some of the major functions of the Patrol are to prevent smoking in and around the building; to prevent stealing in the locker rooms; to prevent pupils from leaving the grounds without permission; to keep order in the lunchroom; and to assist at athletic contests and other school activities.

Commerce

Bright days that are swiftly passing,
  Happy days that hurry by,
Those glad free hours of school life,
  That we part from with a sigh,
Tedious classes, sports and laughter,
  Close to our hearts that lie,
Bind with loyalty and friendship,
  Each of us to Commerce High!

CHORUS

Commerce-Commerce-Commerce-Commerce—
Commerce-Commerce-Commerce-Commerce—
We must leave our school for life's work,
  To the call we gladly go,
And reveal in the duties set us,
  All that to our school we owe.
With Integrity our watchword,
  And Industry our guide,
Let our lives bring honor ever,
  To our dear old Commerce High!

SOCCER

Led by Captain Frank Silvia, the Commerce soccer team completed a very successful season. After losing the first game to Monson, the Crimson team won four straight before Monson again triumphed over them in an exciting game which was not decided until the last few moments of play. The Crimson team needed a victory in its last game against Tech to win the 1932 interschool title. With the score one to one, and with one moment left to play, Hartwell, Tech's forward, scored the winning goal. Commerce placed second in the final interschool standing. The Crimson tallied fourteen goals during the season, while opponents scored thirteen times. The leading scorers were Captain Silvia, Goldstein, and Rees, each with four goals.

FOOTBALL

The Commerce football team completed a very successful season, with four victories, two defeats, and one tie. Commerce played Enfield in the first game, and won seven to nothing. Commerce outplayed Enfield in nearly every department of play, with Ustach, Montebello, and Berecki doing great work in the line and backfield. With the whole forward line performing ably, the Commerce team out-scored Turners Falls thirteen to six. The Crimson team lost its first game of the season to Cathedral by the score of twelve to nothing. In the second and third periods the Purple tallied two touchdowns. Captain John Conway, Commerce halfback, performed ably both in running and punting. Tech, led by Naylor Taliaferro, trounced the Crimson team twenty to nothing. Commerce was without the services of Herb Montebello, all City guard. Central was the Crimson's next opponent and neither team could score. Commerce scored a touchdown on a pass to Berti, left end, but this was ruled out on account of the Crimson's having twelve men on the field. Commerce beat Trade in the last game of the season, thirteen to six.

BASEBALL

The Commerce nine finished a disastrous season by losing the last game to Tech, five to four in twelve innings. The baseball club won two, lost ten, and tied one. However, a close checkup reveals the fact that five of the losses were by small margins. The Crimson opened the season at Holyoke and were defeated during a thrilling game by the score of four to three. The Central nine, encouraged by a victory over Tech, trounced the Crimson nine to the tune of seventeen to two. Masco, Central pitcher, featured with three hits and holding the Commerce nine to a few scattered hits. The Commerce nine trounced Ludlow by the score of ten to three, collecting thirteen hits, with Kawa hitting safely twice. Turners Falls, Trade, Holyoke and Cathedral then took the Commerce team into camp. The Crimson nine, behind Abe Feldman's excellent pitching and Cohen and Silvia's hitting and base running, played a three-to-three tie with Central. At Turners Falls, the Commerce nine lost, thirteen to one. Commerce again trounced Ludlow; every man except three hit safely in this game. Ankiewicz, Cohen, and Neigher led the attack, each hitting safely twice. The next three games were lost: one to Trade and two to Tech. Ankiewicz led the regulars at bat with a percentage of .280, followed closely by Cohen, who batted .263. Neigher, who was out of the first few games, was the unofficial leader with a mark of .429.

GOLF

The Commerce golf team won two matches, lost five, and tied one. In the first two matches, Tech and Trade trounced the Crimson golfers by the scores of eleven to one and eleven and one-half to one-half. Commerce played the Holyoke High team and held this veteran team to a three-to-three tie. Cathedral and Commerce were the first high school teams to dedicate the Memorial Links, and Cathedral managed to win from the Crimson by seven to five. Captain Tom Burke of Cathedral shot an 81 and Captain John Long of Commerce shot an 87. Tech again beat the Crimson with Captain Siegel shooting a 79. The Crimson team then beat Central by the score of six and one-half to five and one-half. In a return match, Central beat the Crimson golfers by the score of eight to four. The Crimson played at Holyoke and lost, six to nothing. Commerce beat Trade in the last game of the season by the score of seven to five.

CREW

When in September, 1931, a call was issued for candidates for the crew, a veteran eight reported, but after one week's practice, an announcement by Franklin J. Gray, Springfield Director of Physical Education, revealed a lack of funds in the budget, and the sport was postponed till the following spring. Then the same squad of candidates reported for practice. The Commerce crew finished fourth in a thrilling race with Trade. George Russell was elected Captain of the 1931 crew, while Fred Provini captained the 1932 crew.

Basketball

FOR the first time since 1928, the Commerce basketball team won a clear interschool court title. In the 1931-32 season the Crimson managed to secure a tie with the Trade Beavers in the public school race. The team was coached by Harold Jones and was captained by Carl Demchuck.

After much practising, including a pre-season game against the St. Joseph Eagles, which Commerce won 28-27, the Crimson five was finally ready to open its season against the Trade School Beavers at the Springfield Boys' Club. The pre-season game was to help boost the Ray Sweeney Memorial Fund for injured Commerce players.

Trailing the Blue and Gold throughout the first half, the Jonesmen, led by Mike Demchuck, early in the third period, drew within one point of the Beavers, but the Trade combine went on a scoring spree, and although Commerce tried to summon its waning strength to overtake the Berrymen, the result of the game was never in doubt from that time on. The final score was Trade 36, Commerce 30.

Because of the defeat suffered at the hands of Trade, Commerce was given very little chance against a so-far-undefeated Cathedral team, but the Purple proved to be no match for the Crimson, who were on the long end of the 41-16 score. This victory again placed Commerce as a contender for the interschool and city titles.

A basket by Hyman Neigher, All-City forward, in the last half-minute of play, won the first interschool game of the season for Commerce, when the Tech Tiger, after leading throughout most of the game, fell before a last minute rally that was staged by Commerce and climaxed by Neigher's basket. Abe Feldman was fouled just before the final whistle blew. He made good the shot, and the score read Commerce 20, Tech 18.

Paced by Izzy Cohen, who scored sixteen points, the Jonesmen had little difficulty in defeating Easthampton 34-25, in the fourth game of the season. Abe Feldman and Captain Carl Demchuck starred on the defense for Commerce.

The making of what seemed impossible shots by a strong Rockville five enabled the Nutmeggers to nose out Commerce, 36-35. In the last minute of play, when only one point separated the teams, Hy Neigher was given a free try but failed to convert the point.

CARL DEMCHUCK
Captain

Seeking revenge for its first defeat of the year, a far superior Crimson combine outplayed a fighting Trade team to win one of the most important inter-school games played thus far, 37-21. The Beavers took an early lead in the first period, but some of the shooting by Neigher and Brown put Commerce ahead in the second quarter and its team was first from that time on.

Led by Captain Fred Reil, Turners Falls had little trouble in administering a 46-27 defeat to a completely outclassed Commerce team.

Ludlow proved to be nothing more than a work-out for accurate shooting Commercites, when the Jutetowners were handed a 65-17 beating by the Jonesmen. Three Crimson players reached double figures. Neigher gathered 16, while Cohen was credited with 13, and Mike Demchuck picked up 10 points.

History virtually repeated itself in the second Tech game, when again Commerce emerged with a 20-18 victory. The Crimson trailed 9-8 at the half, but, led by Mike Demchuck, Commerce took the lead in the third quarter and was never headed from that time.

The first of its two road trips proved disastrous to the Crimson aggregation when it traveled to Rockville and was handed a 34-24 setback. This was the second time this season that the Black and Orange defeated Commerce.

Bewildered by Holyoke's dazzling attack, the Commerce quintet suffered its second defeat, when the Papertown five handed them a 31-13 score. Chet Borecki, Crimson Guard, was outstanding on the offense for the losers.

Overcoming an early Crimson lead, the Trade School Beavers handed the Commerce cagesters a 29-19 defeat, and by their victory eliminated the Jonesmen as a city title contender. Captain Colie Demchuck was the only Crimson player to make any progress on the offense, while Feldman starred on the defense.

With the interschool title within their grasp, an inspired Commerce team turned back Tech for the third time of the season with a 20-23 victory. Commerce took an early lead and had the Orange and Black trailing throughout the contest. Mike Demchuck was outstanding for the Jonesmen.

For the last game of the season Commerce played host to Agawam and before the visitors had finished shooting the Crimson found themselves on the short end of a 42-23 score. The Jonesmen played without the services of Neigher, Borecki, and Berti who were dropped from the squad because of playing outside ball.

Five Commerce men were chosen on the All-City Teams. Carl Demchuck was given a guard berth on the Sunday Union and Republican while Hy Neigher was given a forward position by the same paper. Chester Borecki and Mike Demchuck were placed on the second team by the Sunday paper. Izzy Cohen was given a place on the Morning Union along with Neigher.

THE SWEENEY MEMORIAL FUND

By requesting upon his death bed that his personal bank account be turned over for the benefit of injured Commerce athletes, Raymond Sweeney, former Commerce three letter man, who was injured in August 1930 and died in December 1931, endeared his name forever to all Commerce sport followers. The fund will be known as the Raymond Sweeney Memorial Fund. It is hoped that through benefit games the principal will soon be large enough so that the interest may be used to assure injured Commerce players against financial loss.

Athletic Activities Amang the Lassies

AGAIN the hockey and soccer interschool championships have come into the hands of the Commerce players, after a season of active practice and the final tests with Central and Tech as opponents.

Although these two games are the only interschool matches, other sports, which are interclass and rival among contestants in after-school hours, are participated in by a large number of interested girls.

Interclass basketball and baseball take place in late winter and spring, basketball in the Gym. and baseball at the Armory grounds. During the spring, a tennis tournament takes place, giving one girl a chance to win the silver loving cup awarded to the winner. Squad work and dancing are indulged in during gymnasium classes in the winter, the practice of which is concluded when the annual meet is held at the end of the season.

G. A. A. INITIATION PARTY

Once every semester, fun and laughter prevail in the Gym. when the freshman girls are initiated into the G. A. A. A certain date is set for this, and on the day the freshies are compelled to wear a comical costume, the character of which is decided upon by the president of the organization. After wearing the apparel throughout the school day, they assemble in the evening for the party in the Gym. All members of the G.A.A. are invited to be present with a girl friend. After the initiation ceremony, the audience is entertained by the XB's with dancing, recitations, and singing, a prize being awarded to the best performer. The remainder of the evening is spent in dancing, during which time refreshments are served.
